

AP United States History

War of 1812 Results and The Era of Good Feelings

- Treaty of Ghent- 1814 ends the War of 1812
 - Nothing changes—stalemate—white peace
 - Because of the end of the Napoleonic Wars, impressment wasn't a factor in negotiations and so wasn't addressed
 - Affirms the Treaty of Paris and conditions that hadn't been followed
 - Canada is still British
- Elections of 1816 and 1820
 - The Election of 1816—Who's gonna win? Federalists or Democratic-Republicans? Who knows?!
 - Democratic-Republicans (Monroe). 84% of electoral vote.
 - What about the Election of 1820? Who shall win this time?!
 - Democratic-Republicans (Monroe). 99.5% of electoral vote.
- Era of Good Feelings
 - DRs are essentially the only party and no divided government
 - However, slavery is a contentious issue within America
- The American System—Henry Clay
 - Tariff of 1816
 - Chartering of the Second Bank of the United States
 - Internal improvements at federal expense
 - Includes roads, bridges, other infrastructure