

AP United States History

Civil War Intro

- Consequences of the Battle of Fort Sumter
 - The South was determined to take the fort and fired first
 - Lincoln called for 75k soldiers from each state to put down the insurrection
 - In response, Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina, and Arkansas seceded
 - Other states, Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, and Missouri, stayed
- Northern Strategy to Victory
 - Conquer southward, Anaconda Strategy
 - Naval blockades to shut out supplies and cut off the Mississippi river